

A Sonic Attack?

Reasoning Through Mysteries (1): Havana Syndrome

How reasonable is each claim?

If you don't know, what questions would you want to ask, or what information would you need to obtain, in order to decide?

How reasonable is each claim?

If you don't know, what questions would you want to ask, or what information would you need to obtain, in order to decide?

What should we believe?

An fallacious argument, based on a lack of contrary evidence:

'It's true because it hasn't yet been proven false.'

or:

'It's false because it hasn't yet been proven true.'
